Interesting News from Brazil.

By Associated Press.]

New York, Nov. 18.—The steamship Earnfels, from Rio Janeiro arrived at Brooklyn yesterday morning. The ship left before the serious trouble began in Brazil, but the officers bring some interesting news. The Earnfels sailed from Rio on the morning of October 24th, having been in port about two weeks. During that time there were no United States war vessels in the harbor, but there were two British and one French cruiser. Of all the Brazilian men-of-war in the commission, so the reports which reached here of the activity in the Brazilian navy were very probably exaggerated.

"The only trouble I know of," said one of the Earnfels's officers, "occurred on the night of October 8th. A great crowd of medical students gathered in one of the theaters, where a rather popular actress was the cause of a good deal of cheering and shouting. The policemen objected to the disorder and tried to put a stop to it. The result was a rush of students against the police, who drew their swords and pistols and fought the crowd. Several of the students were killed and a number of the combatants on both sides were badly injured. On the following night the police and students again met in a row, resulting in the death of two of the latter, and a number of minor casualties. A young Englishman, who happened to be passing down the street where the fight occurred, was instantly killed by a stray bullet. As a result of this rioting the mounted police patrolled the streets of the capital night and day, and after dark it was unsafe to go into the streets. The garrison was not called on for assistance, probably because the army would have sided with the civilians, the soldiers hating the police. The latter are made up of the worst classes. They are mostly Negroes."

"Was there any political significance in this student riot?" was asked. "I think not. The republican form of government has not panned out as they expected. There is a powerful factor desiring the reinstatement of the Empire. They want to put Dom Pedro's son or his nephew on the throne. Since the fall of the Empire the prices of every commodity have doubled. The Government imposed a high tariff."

The officer said further: "It was the general opinion at Rio when we left there that the Government would not last many months longer."

He was not surprised when he read of the revolutionary movement.

Tin Plate Industry.

By Cable and Associated Press.]

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The tin-plate industry in South Wales is in an exceedingly depressed condition. Since Monday last several works have shut down, throwing a large number of men out of employment. In many cases these men have nothing but their wages to depend on, and there is much suffering. They and their families are completely destitute.

Will Face the Charges.

Special to the GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—W. F. Baird, wrecker of the Madera Bank at Fresno, was before Judge Stack this morning on a writ of habeas corpus. His attorney moved, however, that the writ be dismissed and the petitioner remanded. It was so ordered. The reason for this is that Baird expressed a willingness to go back to Fresno and face the charges against him.

By Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—A pilot boat's officers report that when the Jesse Carl was six miles southward of the light ship early this morning, cries were heard of men adrift in a boat. It was blowing and owing to the darkness the castaways could not be discovered.

The Junta in Full Control.

By Cable and Associated Press.]

LONDON, Nov. 18.—No confirmation has yet been received of the Exchange Telegraph Company's Rio De Janeiro advices of yesterday, reporting that the naval and military officers stationed in Para had taken steps looking to the declaration of the independence of that State. The most important news received here to-day relates to affairs in the State of Rio Grande Do Sul. This is given in a dispatch to the Times from Santiago de Chili. According to this the differences which have been interfering with the perfect unity of action by the provisional Junta now in authority in that State, are disappearing, and members of the Junta are now acting in harmony. They made one of their number, Dr. Assis de Brazil, Minister of War. Active measures are being taken to improve the defenses and increase the effective strength of the army.

The mouth of the Rio Grande, the principal river of the State, is obstructed by the sinking of two ships in the channel, and the river is protected by heavy artillery. The Junta is in full control of all the military stores in the State, and of the Government factory for making munitions of war. The provincial banks and private persons are offering to furnish the Junta with ample funds to carry forward the plans that may be decided upon for maintaining the independence of the State. The officers sent by the Dictator to take the places of those who cast their fortunes with the insurgents in Rio Grande Do Sul, have arrived at Montevideo, and propose to proceed at once to their destination. They assert that several men-of-war are now on their way to the Rio Grande, and others are being made ready to follow. Refugees from Rio de Janeiro, who reached Montevideo, express the opinion that Fonseca will not be able to long maintain himself. His cause is lost, they say, and only mob violence, in their opinion, now restrains the discontented opposition at the Brazilian capital from active steps against Fonseca.

Suspicious Actions.

By Cable and Associated Press.]

HONOLULU (H. I.), Nov. 11.—The British yacht Beagle arrived here about September 1st with the owners, Messrs. Bloom and Douglas, on board, who spent money lavishly while here.

On the arrival of the steamship Australia from the colonies last month it was announced that the Westminister of Sydney had been robbed of over 50,000 sovereigns, and photographs which were brought by a detective who came on the steamer, it is claimed, tallied with the appearance of the owners of the yacht. The latter were at once arrested on a charge of smuggling British coin, which did not appear on the vessel's manifest and on the importation of which there is a duty fixed by the Hawaiian laws. The detective then went to San Francisco to cable to Sydney for further instructions, as there is no treaty between Australia and Hawaii covering the case at point.

The trial of the men was continued until the return of the steamer from San Francisco, which, it was supposed, would bring the detective and additional evidence. As, however, the detective did not put in an appearance, the yacht was searched, with the exception of the hold, and no sovereigns being found, the case was dismissed. It was noted, however, that all the sums expended by the men were in British sovereigns and that the captain and cook left the yacht on its arrival here, on account of her alleged suspicious movements. On being released November 5th, a new crew was shipped and the yacht put to sea, her ostensible destination being Japan. It is still hovering about the islands, and it is intimated she may sail for San Francisco.

Railway Work Suspended.

By Cable and Associated Press.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 18.—Owing to the exceptional severity of the weather, the Government has given orders that work on the eastern portion of the Siberian railway shall be suspended for the present.

As a measure of relief to many of the peasants in the famine-stricken districts, the Government is considering the advisability of engaging thousands of them to work on the construction of the Siberian road during the winter. The work of building the line will be resumed as soon as the weather moderates sufficiently. The Czar will shortly undertake the supreme direction of the work of construction.

The Crew Were Drowned.

By Cable and Associated Press.]

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The captain of the American schooner, William L. Bradley, which sailed from Charleston, S. C., on October 5th for Weymouth, Mass., and which was abandoned on October 13th, states that the crew of the schooner took to the boats and were drowned.

Samoa and Hawaiian News.

By Associated Press.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—The steamship Australia arrived this morning, seven days from Honolulu. Advices were received at the Islands October 22d, to the effect that the situation in Samoa was strained, and that at King Maletoa's request the Faipule had agreed to issue a proclamation declaring Mataafa a rebel. The President of the Council, in announcing the King's wish to the Faipule, is reported to have said "It is now time for the Government to be strong and seize Mataafa and prosecute him."

Hawaiian planters held a convention at Honolulu beginning October 26th, and discussed a number of important topics, among them being the foreign labor question and the advisability of the extensive raising of tea and coffee on the islands.

Ex-Archbishop Ashford published an article October 30th, in which he charged the press of Honolulu with being afraid to frankly revise the situation arising out of the changed conditions of reciprocity with the United States, produced by the free sugar sections of the McKimley bill. The Honolulu Bulletin, commenting on the letter says: The United States does not want to disturb our autonomy. Those reported utterances of her public men in favor of a protectorate are based on the false light in which the Hawaiian situation is presented by such writings as appear in the Ka Leo (newspaper), and to which Ashford's letter bears a somewhat close affinity. The reasons for Hawaiian independence are as strong to-day as they ever were.

One hundred Japanese on the Ewa plantation, who celebrated their Emperor's birthday by going on a strike, were arrested November 4th, and sentenced to pay four dollars costs, each, for refusing to perform the contract services.

The United States steamer Pensacola is still at Honolulu. The United States steamer Charleston had not arrived there when the Australia left the Islands.

The Hawaiian Queen's Health.

Special to the GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Consul McKinley's advices from Honolulu, under date of November 11th, are to the effect that the rumors regarding the ill health of Queen Liliuokalani, which have appeared in the American and English newspapers, are without any foundation whatsoever, and receive no attention in Honolulu where the facts are known. Advices state that the Queen's health, as a matter of fact, is excellent, and that she devotes much attention to State duties. The Queen has commissioned Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, the father of Princess Kaiulani, to be Governor of Oahu.

While there is considerable discussion growing out of the political preparations for the next legislative campaign in the Islands, the discussion is marked with calmness, and there are no signs of the disturbing elements that have been reported from time to time.

No Cause for Anxiety.

By Cable and Associated Press.]

BREMEN, Nov. 18.—The German line steamer Eider, which left New York November 7th, bound for this port, has not arrived at Southampton, her port of call in England and some of those having friends on board are becoming anxious. The company's officers here state, however, that they believe the Eider is safe and that she is merely delayed by gales.

Thirty-Six Thousand Men Strike.

By Cable and Associated Press.]

PARIS, Nov. 18.—A dispatch received here to-day from the various places in the Department of Pas de Calais show that the striking coal miners are gaining many accessions to their ranks. The strikers now number 36,000 men, and it is not doubted that the majority of the men still at work will quit also.

Destructive Flames.

By Associated Press.]

ST. PAUL, Nov. 18.—St. Paul last night suffered one of the most disastrous fires in its history. The buildings damaged were those of Griggs, Cooper & Co., wholesale grocers, and Farwell, Ozeman & Co., wholesale hardware. The total loss is estimated at from $900,000 to $1,000,000. The losses are covered by insurance.

The building occupied by the two firms is a brick and stone structure nine stories in height, and has a frontage on Third street of three hundred feet and on Broadway of two hundred feet. Griggs, Cooper & Co. occupied two-thirds of the building.

The flames first made their appearance at 11:44 o'clock on the fourth floor of Griggs, Cooper & Co.'s part of the building. Within less than five minutes the fire department were on hand in force, but a general alarm had to be turned in soon afterwards. The rapidity with which the flames spread, the blinding volleys of smoke which filled the streets surrounding, the cold weather and inability of the firemen to get to the fire, rendered their work very hard.

In half an hour from the time the alarm was given in, the flames leaped through the roof and communicated to the adjoining building, where they made rapid progress. The firemen turned their attention to saving the floors below, and by hard work for a time succeeded in confining most of the damage to this floor, though the loss in this department alone would reach fully $300,000. The flames crept downward into the hardware building, through the elevator shaft, and one by one the other floors succumbed.

The fire department fought valiantly against terrific odds, and at 3:30 o'clock the walls fell. The flames set fire to the frame building used by the Northern Pacific News Company. Soon the walls of Farwell, Ozeman & Co.'s building fell outward. Several attempts were made to save the stock in the less exposed parts of the building, but without avail, and the complete destruction of both the stock and buildings was inevitable.

The building belonged to D. C. Shepard. It was estimated to be worth $200,000. The losses are estimated as follows: Farwell, Ozeman & Co., $400,000, with an insurance of $350,000; Griggs, Cooper & Co., on the building and stock the loss is $550,000; fully insured. The total loss is $950,000.

The flames are under control at this hour, 5:30 this morning, but are fast consuming what remains of the stock. No definite information can be obtained as to the cause of the fire, but it is thought to have been ignited in some unknown manner in the packing room on the fourth floor. Both firms will continue business without interruption, their books and accounts having been saved.

Garza withdrew to the mountains in good order after the fight.

A Terrible Experience.

Wednesday, November 18, 1891

NEW YORK CITY is threatened with a water famine, which is probably due to the election, for while the campaign was pending the majority of those New York men gave up the use of water altogether. But, serious, it is almost impossible to estimate what frightful results would follow if a city like New York should be denied the use of water for a single day; indeed the existence of such a city as New York absolutely depends upon modern conveniences. The blizzard which killed Senator Conklin practically shut off the supply of food from New York City for three days, and the suffering was extreme; because as a rule no precautions are taken to have on hand large supplies of food. The city, as it were, lives from hand to mouth and depends upon the ships and railroads to bring it its daily food. Of course there is no danger of such a falling of the water supply as will not leave enough for the people and the animals to drink; but to stop the sprinkling of the streets in New York City for a few days in a time of great drought is a calamity. It will give any amount of work to the doctors and the undertakers. In fact, New York City is too big; that is, there are too many people crowded together in too small a space. London is a much larger city, but then London covers an immense area and is filled with parks and breathing places. In New York people are huddled together, and it is a little babel.

In commenting upon the resolutions adopted by the State Board of Trade on Saturday, the San Francisco Report says:

The resolutions adopted by the Reno meeting are unanimous, unequivocal and straight to the point. The Nevada people mean business. The free and independent attitude of the Nevada press generally, and the RENO GAZETTE in particular, has had much to do with the attitude taken by the Nevada State Board of Trade, undoubtedly. The Carson papers are the only ones which have remained altogether silent, while the people of their State have been fighting for freedom from the Southern Pacific monopoly.

A member of the Executive Committee of the California Traffic Association will visit Reno on Thursday or Friday. The visit will be an unofficial one, but the member of the committee will call upon the leaders of the Nevada movement, and, on his return to San Francisco, will make an informal report on the attitude of the citizens of the Silver State, and he will try to ascertain what they will do.

RAIN-MAKING experiments are now in progress in India, and a measure of success is reported. That is a country which may have a drought in one section and 600 inches of rain in another. Since British rule has put a stop to native wars there has been a great increase of population, and frequent famines resulting from droughts. There is a disposition shown in some quarters to hold the increase in population in a measure responsible for the famines. The truth is we hear more about them because of the facility of communication, but history shows that India has worse famines and more of them before than since British occupation, and now-a-days relief is easier.

The hardest fight against holding either of the National Conventions in San Francisco comes from the morning papers in the East. They could not get the report of evening sessions in time for publication owing to the three hours' difference in time against them. Out here the case is reversed. The world turns for the evening paper and Eastern events which occur after Eastern evening papers have gone to press can be reported in the RENO GAZETTE.

It is now reported from Washington that California will lose the Secretaryship of War because her representatives cannot agree upon a man.

CHRIS BUCKLEY is mad. He is red-hot at Judge Wallace, but not enraged enough to come back to San Francisco and face the grand jury.

SEA SERPENTS.

Discovery of a Remarkable Species of Shark.

Prof. Garman, in a lecture before the Boston Society of Natural History, gave an interesting synopsis of sea-serpents or sea serpent literature, besides exhibiting a specimen of the real serpent to the astonished audience. The professor, according to a Boston paper, first gave a historical resume of the earlier literature upon the subject, going back to the time of Pontopidan and reviewing it down to date. Farther on in his lecture he gave figures of some of the queer marine monsters which have from time to time frightened sailors and others almost to death, deftly drawing each of the figures on a blackboard specially provided for the occasion. Prof. Garman also spoke of a most remarkable recent discovery which has brought to light a species of shark generally believed to have become extinct many thousands of years ago, the remains of the animal being now found in the rocks of the Devonian system. He is of the opinion that this recently discovered sea-tiger is the original of more than one blood-curdling sea serpent story. The length and general outlines of this shark-like creature are such as to cause anyone except a born naturalist to take it for an immense serpent, an opinion which would, of course, be heightened by viewing a dorsal exposure of the creature through a glass in a troubled sea. Prof. Garman does not discredit sea-serpent stories, however, and is of the opinion that there are many slimy monsters lying far down upon the bottom of the sea the like of which human eyes have never yet seen.

THE AGE OF SPORT.

Recreation Now Considered a Proper Part of Life.

We are a jollier people than we were a generation ago, and by so much healthier in mind and body, says the New York World.

Men still living remember when in most parts of the country it would have been deemed a strange sacrifice of dignity for any grown man to engage in playing ball, while the women who should have played tennis or rowed a boat would have been deemed hopelessly "unsexed."

Now, we recognize sports as a proper part of life, and we are healthier men and women for the change. Only the other day a young woman carried off the tennis championship. Yesterday thousands of men and women of this town grew enthusiastic over the baseball contest between Yale and Princeton colleges, and the grave dons of the college were by no means the least enthusiastic observers of "hot fouls" and "base hits."

Other thousands devoted the afternoon to the superb struggling of the New York and Chicago professional nines and the contents of the splendid athletes at Travers Island, and on Tuesday a vast multitude of people with no instinct of gambling and with nothing but a healthy love of outdoor sport will assemble at Sheephead Bay to see the great horse race of the year—a thing which their fathers and grandfathers would have deemed it a sin to see at all. It is a healthier world for all this.

BLIND SHAMPOOERS.

A Peculiar Institution of Japanese Communities.

To this day, says the London Times, all towns and villages in Japan have their blind shampooers, who go about after nightfall with a strange musical cry. The less skillful among the musicians become professional story tellers. The higher official grades, which were at one time opened to the blind, were eagerly sought after. Those who held them were provided with special marks of their office, and during civil wars blind musicians were frequently employed as spies. The art of shampooing as practiced by the Japanese blind takes nine years to learn. The pupil for the first three years practices on his master; then he spends three years acquiring the art of neputune, and for the remaining three years he is on probation, his master receiving half his earnings. Blind men sometimes distinguish themselves outside their regular occupations. One was a famous "go" player; and it is recorded that, having beaten a prince at the game, his antagonist, in a fit of jealous anger, killed him, and was himself executed for the crime. Another was a famous author, and compiled a valuable repository of information in six hundred and thirty-five volumes. The blind also practiced usury, and acquired much unpopularity from the harsh way in which they treated their debtors.

A Remarkable Servant.

A few days ago, there died in France a woman who, although ill-favored and disagreeable, exercised a most powerful influence on the destinies of Europe. Extraordinary though it may appear, she was nothing but a servant girl, with so little education that she barely knew how to write her name, which was Pepa. She was a Spaniard by birth and was the maid and confidential factotum of Empress Eugenie, both before and after her marriage to Napoleon. It is generally admitted that Empress Eugenie was principally responsible for many of the most cruel of France's disasters. She was entirely under the control of her maid, who possessed all the vices and none of the virtues of the Spanish character. The emperor and many of Eugenie's friends and relatives repeatedly implored her to dismiss Pepa, but without avail, and it was current at the time that she owed her exceedingly strange position to some dangerous secret of her mistress which the latter feared she would reveal.

Bound to Get In.

It is not often that a person will apply for admission to an insane hospital on the ground that he is crazy. But that is what a Nebraska man did the other day. To his disgust he failed, however, in convincing the county poor-master of his insanity, and he remarked as he left the office: "Before the end of the week I'll convince you that I'm as wild as a hawk. I'll take off my clothes, run the town, make speeches from the court house steps and other freaks of a like nature that I'll undertake will insure my bed and board until next spring."

C. F. BLANCHARD: We sell more of Hood's Sarsaparilla than of any similar.

MARSTON & SNAW: With us the sale of Hood's is 9 to 1 of any other kind.

F. P. MOODY: We sell twice as much of Hood's Sarsaparilla as of anything similar.

C. A. SWAN: Hood's is the most popular sarsaparilla of the day.

Twenty Oregon druggists speak similarly. This popularity at home, where Hood's Sarsaparilla and its proprietors have been known for many years, could not continue if the medicine did not possess merit. And these facts should certainly convince people in other sections of the country that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a good, reliable medicine.

Pimples.

The old idea was that facial eruptions were due to a "blood humor," for which they gave potash. The old-fashioned mineral, instead of decreasing, actually creates more eruptions. You have noticed this when taking other Sarsaparillas. It is however now known that the stomach, the blood creating power, is the seat of all vitiation or cleansing operations. A stomach clogged by indigestion or constipation, vitiates the blood, results in pimples. A clean stomach and healthy digestion purifies it and they disappear. Thus Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is compounded after the modern idea to regulate the bowels and stimulate the digestion. The effect is immediate. A short testimonial to contrast the action of the potash Sarsaparillas and Joy's. Mrs. C. D. Stuart, of 400 Hayes St., B. F., writes: "I have for years had indigestion. I tried a popular Sarsaparilla but it actually caused more pimples to break out on my face. Hearing that Joy's was a later preparation acted differently, I tried it and the pimples immediately disappeared."

Eve's Daughters.

Marion Harland, on pages 105 and 106 of her popular work, "Eve's Daughters," or, Common Sense for Maid, Wife and Mother," says:

"For the aching back—should it be allowed in recovering its normal strength—an Alcock's Porous Plaster is an excellent comforter, combining the sensation of the sustained pressure of a strong warm hand with certain tonic qualities developed in the wearing. It should be kept over the seat of uneasiness for several days—in obstinate cases, for perhaps a fortnight."

AN ORCHARD TWENTY MILES LONG.

Trees Fifty Feet High Laden Down with Fruit. In the wild district between Hana and Haiku during July and August the most beautiful and largest apple orchards in the world can be seen. The Wilderness of Koolan, as the district is called, contains a forest of native wild apple trees, countless in number, stretching from the sea far up the mountain side. The trees vary from forty to fifty feet in height, and in the harvest season, from July to September, are loaded down with fruit, some white, but mostly red. A person standing in the midst of this orchard can look around him for miles, up the mountain and toward the sea, and the only thing in view will be one vast grove of apple trees literally red with ripe and ripening fruit, the branches of the trees bending to the ground with the bounteous harvest. The crop of this extensive apple orchard which nature planted in the solitary waste would fill a fleet of ten steamers. The orchard stretches over a country from five to ten miles wide by twenty miles long, and many of the large trees bear at least fifty barrels apiece, writes Honolulu correspondent of the Chicago Tribune. The fruit is delicious for table use, and will appease both thirst and hunger, but as yet no one has taken the trouble to make any commercial use of the apples. When ripe they will not keep more than a week, but they make excellent jelly and jam, and simply for the lack of a little American enterprise millions of barrels of apples are permitted annually to fall to the ground and rot.

DEAD MEN NEED NO MONEY.

How a Chinaman Was Treated Who Was Unable to Longer Earn His Living.

The Chinese flag is at half-mast today on account of the death of Ah Kew. Dr. Herdan was called two or three days since to treat Ah Kew, whom he found suffering from what he supposed was a stroke of paralysis of the left side. The Chinaman could not talk and the doctor was studying his case when several of the Chinamen came forward and said "We make 'em talk," and proved to him by putting live coals of fire on his abdomen, which they said was "Ah same as white man mustard." Sure enough, they succeeded in making the poor wretch howl with pain, but he said nothing that could be understood. They burnt five holes nearly through the outer lining of the abdomen and stuck in each hole a burning josh stick, but either the treatment or the disease killed the fellow and he lies in a miserable hovel in the rear of an opium joint in Chinatown with a block of wood under his head and burning punks all about him. Beside the couch the fellow lies on a dish of smoking roast pig. His remains are very much emaciated, his hands and arms being nothing but skin and bones. Such is the treatment accorded to the sons of the Orient when they become helpless and unable to work. The case should be looked into by the authorities.

WHO WILL MAKE THE MOVE?

A Member of the California Traffic Association Coming Here To Find Out What Nevada Wants. The San Francisco Report says a member of the executive committee of the Traffic Association will be in Reno Thursday or Friday of this week to see what our people want in the way of transportation facilities. The Gazette would suggest that a public meeting be called and that the matter be fully discussed in all of its bearings in order to act intelligently on the subject. If the people do not help themselves in this matter, no one can do it for them, and in order to enable the gentleman coming here to make an intelligent report, it will be necessary for him to meet and talk with our people. If some one will take the matter in hand who has the time to attend to it we can have a round meeting and much good may be accomplished, and certainly no harm can come of the movement.

The Grand Jury.

The Grand Jury, through its foreman, W. O. H. Martin, made its final report to the Court last evening after the GAZETTE press hour, and were discharged. They found two bills against Wm. McWilliams for grand larceny, and one against H. Summerfield for burglary. They both pleaded guilty to the indictments and Judge Cheney sentenced McWilliams to eighteen months in State Prison, and Summerfield to four years and six months.

At the Harvest of Death.

Much grain is prematurely reaped by the scythe of disease that might have ripened to a golden maturity if "miserable" bodily troubles had been attended to in time. Nothing is truer than this—bodily ailments not only grow apace, but beget one another. Thus biliousness, constipation, dyspepsia follow close on the heels of one another, and together they form the nucleus of other, and begetting a numerous progeny of later ailments of more or less severe character. The one perpetuating the other, and together they form the nucleus of other, and begetting a numerous progeny of later ailments of more or less severe character. The one perpetuating the other, and together they form the nucleus of other, and begetting a numerous progeny of later ailments of more or less severe character.

A BORN LAWYER.

A Good Story for Young Boys and New Reporters. A lawyer advertised for a clerk. The next morning his office was crowded with applicants, all bright and many suitable. He bid them wait until all should arrive, and then ranged them into a row, and said he would tell them a story, note their comments and judge from that whom he would choose. "A certain farmer," began the lawyer, "was troubled with a red squirrel that got through a hole in his barn and stole his seed corn. He resolved to kill the squirrel at the first opportunity. Seeing him go in at the hole one noon, he took the shotgun and fired away. The first shot set the barn on fire. "Did the barn burn?" said one of the boys. "The lawyer, without answering, continued: "And seeing the barn on fire, the farmer seized a pail of water and ran to put it out." "Did he put it out?" said another. "As he passed inside, the door shut and the barn was soon in flames. When the hired girl rushed out with pail of water—" "Did they all burn up?" said another boy. "The lawyer went on without answer: "Then the old woman, who was all alone and was very old, and everybody was trying to put out the fire." "Did any one burn up?" said a fourth. "The lawyer said: "There, that will do. You have all shown great interest in the story." But observing one little bright-eyed fellow in deep sleep, he said: "Now, my little man, what have you to say?" The little fellow blushed, grew uneasy and stammered out: "I want to know what became of that squirrel; that's what I want to know." "You'll do," said the lawyer; "you're my man; you have not been switched off by confusion and a barn-burning and the hired girls and water pails. You kept your eye on the squirrel."

A CLEVER MINSTREL COMPANY.

What the Carson "Tribune" Says of the Performance Given in That City. Goodyear, Elitch & Schilling's minstrels deserve all the good things said of them. A large audience was thoroughly delighted by this organization at the Carson Opera House last night. Everything was new, crisp and bright. Goodyear is one of the great end men ever seen on a Carson stage. He copies after no minstrel, but has a pleasing way of getting off his gags and specialties that delights the audience, and Hall is not far behind him as a comedian. The latter's equal as a banjo player probably cannot be found in the profession. A delightful musical treat last night was the playing of the great Mexican saltario soloist. This is a new instrument in these parts. Wonderfully sweet is the music it emits. The specialties were all fresh and new, while the wonderful feats of dancing and acrobatics by He Arabs, Mazur and Abbaco, astonished and delighted all. One of the best features is the orchestra music. This alone is worth the price of admission.

At the Opera House to-night.

PAINFUL OPERATION. A Carson Lady Has Her Limb Amputated. The Carson News says: Mrs. D. H. Brown, who a few days ago was reported seriously ill, is in a critical condition. Her left limb above the knee has been in a gangrenous state, caused by the clogging of the blood in that portion of the limb. Sunday Drs. Packer and Harris of Virginia were summoned, and with Drs. Lee and Herrick of this city held a consultation and decided to amputate the limb a few inches above the knee, which was done Monday afternoon. After the first operation had been performed it was found necessary to amputate another portion, as mortification was found in the flesh. Dr. Lee informed a News reporter that the chances for her recovery were limited.

PERSONALS.

W. O. Ward is in from Surprise Valley. Frank Bell went to Carson this morning. J. L. Wines returned this morning from California. Judge Rising was a passenger to California last night. F. M. Rowland, of Long Valley, was in town this morning. Miss Wasson and Miss Yerington, of Carson, came down last night. Ed. Ferris, of Long Valley, was a passenger for California last night. George Schafer, the lumberman, came down from Truckee this morning. S. Jacobs, the tailor, went to Carson this morning to sit as a juror in the U. S. Court.

It Should be in Every House.

J. B. Wilson, 27 Clay St., Sharpshooters, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with pneumonia after an attack of "La grippe," which various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber of Cockspott, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for Lung Trouble. Nothing like it. Try it. Free trial bottle at W. Pinner's Drug Store. Large bottles 50c and $1.00.

Europe contains five "proving houses" or testing places for firearms, the largest of which is located at Liege, in Belgium. At this establishment there is consumed every year between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 cartridges and over forty tons of gunpowder. The Supreme Court at Sacramento has affirmed the decision of the lower courts granting Colonel J. D. Stevenson a pension. The Court holds that the pension is not a gift. This decision is believed to cover the question raised in the World's Fair Appropriation bill. Honesty is the best policy, because it is the only policy which insures against loss of character. John Sunderland has always mastered that rule and that in a measure accounts for his success in business, but not wholly, for he has one of the largest and most stylish stocks to select from, and people will go where they can be best pleased. There is None Better. Dr. R. L. St. John of Howland, Putnam county, Missouri, takes especial pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, because he knows it to be reliable. He has used it in his practice for several years, and says there is none better. It is especially valuable for colds and is a preventive and cure for croup. This most excellent medicine is for sale by J. B. McCullough, Druggist. Cephaline cures all kinds of head ache, even the most chronic and aggravated cases vanish before its magic influence. Ask your druggist for it. I Mean It.

Above diagram was drawn and verified in all its details, by Prof. Peter Collier, who is pre-eminent as a Chemist, and Scientist. The illustration is made in accordance with his chemical tests of each brand enumerated. The Carbonic acid gas was calculated to get the leavening strength and the quantitative analysis to ascertain the comparative wholesomeness, purity, and general usefulness of the leading Powders. The result of Prof. Collier's examination and test, reveals the fact, that, with but one exception, every brand tested contained either Ammonia or Alum, and a number both. Not one woman in ten thousand would use an Ammonia or Alum Baking Powder if she knew it. Such Powders not only undermine the health, but ammonia imparts a saltier or blotched complexion. NOTE.—Dr. Price's Cream Tartar Powder, as shown by Prof. Collier's examinations, is the only pure Cream Tartar Powder found free from adulteration and the highest in strength. All authorities report Dr. Price's free from Ammonia, Alum, Lime, or any other adulterant. The purity of this ideal Powder has never been questioned.  Indicates the Powder containing either Ammonia or Alum.  Indicates the Powder containing both Ammonia and Alum.

While the diagram shows some of these Ammonia or Alum Powders to be of higher strength than others classed below them, it must not be taken that they possess any value. All Ammonia or Alum powders should be avoided as dangerous, no matter how high their strength.
